

ZEPPELINS IN GREAT FIGHT OVER ENGLAND

By International News Service.
Berlin, Sept. 22.—Zeppelin airships which drove down on the British coast on Saturday night, engaged patrol vessels in battle, and literally had to fight their way to reach their objectives. The admiral in an official statement today admitted the loss of two of the ships and gave details of the fight between the airships and the British navy.

The admiral stated that Northampton and Sheffield were shelled as they sailed on the coast. The Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted. The admiral stated that the Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted. The admiral stated that the Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted.

The admiral stated that the Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted. The admiral stated that the Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted. The admiral stated that the Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted.

The admiral stated that the Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted. The admiral stated that the Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted. The admiral stated that the Zeppelins were seen over the coast of Kent, and the British navy was alerted.

Powerful Attack by Allies in Macedonia

By International News Service.
Paris, Sept. 22.—Allied troops have launched a powerful offensive against the Bulgarians and Germans along the line in Greek Macedonia. The official War Office report issued today dealing with operations in the Balkans tells of attacks by the allied troops at numerous points. It follows: "On the Ruma, three Italian troops continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

continued their attack and have reached Kirovgrad. Northwest of Florina, the French captured the first of the outlying homes of Potoski after a violent conflict, and advanced north of Florina. "West of the town, the Russians

WAR SUMMARY

Aerial warfare on a wider scale than at any time heretofore marked the fighting in France over the week-end. Whether by mere coincidence or not, the week-end was also notable for the most important Zeppelin raid yet attempted. At least twelve Zeppelins of a new pattern took part; and they were convyed across the channel, according to London dispatches today, by submarines.

Of the twelve, two were shot down by the British guns about London. There was a considerable loss of life, but the British deny any military damage. This denial of military damage is a regular feature of Zeppelin raids. Whether it is true or not is mere matter of opinion; but certainly what damage is done by the Zeppelins is inconceivable and unworthy of the effort put forth by the Germans.

In the aeroplane fighting in France, according to the rival claims, more than fifty aeroplanes have been shot down, the toll being closely balanced with about twenty-four allied planes lost, and about twenty-eight German. One French air fleet raided Mannheim; and during the return flight, Sergeant Kiffin Rockwell of Atlanta, Georgia, was killed. He was flying a fighting plane for the French.

The Somme battle was practically at a standstill today, the allies attempting nothing of importance, and the Germans likewise resting after their disastrous counter attacks of the week.

The Russians made a vigorous effort to break through the German lines west of Brody toward Lemberg, throwing five strong attacking forces against the Germans there. They were thrown back, one force that penetrated the first German line being destroyed and captured by a counter-attack.

Nothing from the Dobruja. The Austrians gained a small and unimportant success in the Italian theatre. In Transylvania, the Austrians made some gains. Little doing about Salonica.

EXTEND DI COLA SEARCH

Continued from First Page.
Very vehement in asserting that he did not know the man.

Wayland, however, his attorney, went to the hospital to draw up the dying man's will. When the will was completed, and Di Cola had signed it with a cross—his hand being so wounded that he could not write—Wayland asked:

"Now will you not tell me who shot you?" Di Cola, without a word, wrenched his broken body around till he lay on his side, facing the wall—and no he died.

The police are also inclined to believe that Mrs. Di Cola knew who shot her husband. It was reported one day after the shooting that she had given them the name of the man who shot her, but this rumor was later denied.

Mrs. Di Cola was with her husband when he was shot, and the experience unnerved her terribly. She was in a state of collapse for a time, but had somewhat recovered today, and was able to answer questions.

The police expect to question her tomorrow. She is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Chicago to take charge of the dead man's affairs after his death.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

Di Cola's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York, is now being taken to question Manuel Di Cola, the dead man's brother, who lives at 100 West 42d street, New York.

NEEDS NEW WAY TO RAISE MONEY

The stocks which are said to threaten the financial structure of the Boston Elevated Railway Company were exposed by Attorney Frederick S. Snow, counsel for the company, at the first hearing today of the special commission created by the Legislature to study the finances of the big railway system.

Mr. Snow declared that the financial restraints imposed upon the company must be lessened, and that new means of raising money must be found if the Elevated is to successfully finance the many public improvements, including the equipment for the Dorchester tunnel and Everett extension.

On June 20, 1916, he said, the outstanding bonds of the Elevated amounted to $26,000,000. The par value of the outstanding stock was $25,000,000, and the premiums paid in excess by the stockholders were $1,000,000, making an aggregate of $52,000,000. The company cannot, therefore, under the laws of the State, issue any more bonds until it has issued additional stock, and cannot issue stock because it cannot be sold at less than par, and the present market value of the stock is only $75 a share.

"To enable the company to furnish the adequate transportation facilities as the public may reasonably require, it is necessary that the stock be sold at not less than par, and there is no reason to suppose that the stock will be available at this price unless its earnings are sufficient to pay dividends at the rate of at least six per cent."

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Quincy Garage Cash Drawer Is Robbed by Gunmen

A gunman entered the garage of C. P. Wood, on Adams street, Quincy, and with an automatic pistol, forced the cash drawer open, and robbed the garage of $1,000. The robbery took place on Saturday night, and the garage owner was not injured.

The police have been unable to find a trace of him. The police have been unable to find a trace of him. The police have been unable to find a trace of him.

SCOTLAND YARD LEADER IS DEAD

London, Sept. 22.—Alfred Ward, chief inspector of Scotland Yard, died today. Inspector Ward had charge of the police investigation into several of the most sensational crimes of recent years.

He visited the United States last May to bring back Ignatius Tishlik Lincoln, the former member of Parliament, and self-confessed German spy. Lincoln was extradited on the charge of espionage.

6,000 SOLDIERS GUARD GREEK KING

London, Sept. 22.—Six thousand Greek soldiers from the Athens garrison are guarding King Constantine's palace at Thessalonica, says a wireless received here today. King Constantine, who has been ill, is still confined to his bed at the Thessalonica palace.

BULGARS REPORT ALLIES REPULSED

Sofia, Sept. 22.—Heavy attacks by the allies against the right and left flanks of the Bulgarian force holding the Kachukian heights front were repulsed, the Bulgarian War Office announced today.

Little Change on Russian Front

Petrograd, Sept. 22.—There is nothing important to report from the Russian or Caucasian fronts, says an official statement of the War Office today.

HUMANIAN CAPITAL SHELLED BY AIRSHIP, BERLIN REPORTS

By International News Service.
Berlin, Sept. 22.—Bucharest, the capital of Rumania, has been shelled by a German airship, the War Office announced today. In Dobruja, the official statement says, Field Marshal von Mackensen's army has engaged the Rumanians in successful fighting south of the Cobadin-Tomrair line.

The foregoing contradicts the official statement of the Rumanian War Office, that the Rumanians have advanced further in Dobruja. On the Eastern front the Rumanians penetrated a position held by the Turks in Gallia, but were afterwards driven out.

Artillery battles continue on the Western front. On the Somme and at Verdun attacks by the allies were repulsed. The War Office reports the destruction of nine more allied aeroplanes and the bombardment of Lens by 350 Zeppelins.

The text of the official report follows: "Balkan front.—Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: Fighting south of the Cobadin-Tomrair line (in Dobruja) was successful for the German allies. The fortress of Bucharest was shelled by one of our airships.

"Western front.—The artillery battles between the Aene and Somme advance near Rheims and in the sector of Bouchemme failed.

"Transylvanian front.—Attempts by the Rumanians to advance between Siret and Vucina passed failed.

ASK FOR AND GET HORLICK'S THE ORIGINAL Malted Milk

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

De gustibus non est disputandum

If a man wants his pipe, all right. If he thinks he likes a cigarette, too bad. If he smokes cigars he ought to be good to himself and smoke the Quincy always.

NEEDS NEW WAY TO RAISE MONEY

The stocks which are said to threaten the financial structure of the Boston Elevated Railway Company were exposed by Attorney Frederick S. Snow, counsel for the company, at the first hearing today of the special commission created by the Legislature to study the finances of the big railway system.

Mr. Snow declared that the financial restraints imposed upon the company must be lessened, and that new means of raising money must be found if the Elevated is to successfully finance the many public improvements, including the equipment for the Dorchester tunnel and Everett extension.

On June 20, 1916, he said, the outstanding bonds of the Elevated amounted to $26,000,000. The par value of the outstanding stock was $25,000,000, and the premiums paid in excess by the stockholders were $1,000,000, making an aggregate of $52,000,000. The company cannot, therefore, under the laws of the State, issue any more bonds until it has issued additional stock, and cannot issue stock because it cannot be sold at less than par, and the present market value of the stock is only $75 a share.

"To enable the company to furnish the adequate transportation facilities as the public may reasonably require, it is necessary that the stock be sold at not less than par, and there is no reason to suppose that the stock will be available at this price unless its earnings are sufficient to pay dividends at the rate of at least six per cent."

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

Mr. Snow said that the stock was selling lower than ever before, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition. He said that the company was in a desperate financial condition, and that the company was in a desperate financial condition.

ON CREDIT
No Money Down
"A LITTLE A WEEK"

$1.29
 rdinieres, regular...
 $1.98, each... 98c
 rdinieres and Ped-
 arly $9.00, each
$4.98
 rdinieres and Ped-
 arly $10.98, each
$6.98

... 39c and 50c
ed Dresses
... in tan and blue,
... contrasting col-
... 6 years. ... 30c

BOSTON LIGHT 200 YEARS OLD TODAY

Boston Light, the oldest lighthouse in America, and the forerunner of the American Lighthouse service with more than 1,500 aids to navigation in its care, was 200 years old today, and the nation, state and city have united in a fitting celebration of the anniversary of the old beacon on Little Brewster Island.

Secretary William C. Redfield of the Department of Commerce, Charles P. Wood of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, representatives of various historical and patriotic societies devoted all or part of the day to the celebration. Secretary Redfield came on from Washington last night especially for the event.

The day's events began with a trip to the lighthouse in the tender May-Flower. Among those on board were Secretary William C. Redfield, Captain C. M. Hatch of the clipper Albatross, Congressman Samuel W. Winslow of Worcester, Lighthouse Commissioner George R. Putnam, who came on from Washington with Secretary Redfield, President Charles P. Wood of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Captain Eugene E. O'Donnell of the steamboat inspection service, William C. Ford of the Massachusetts Historical Society, Clifford Smith, Jr., of the Boston Society, Chairman William C. Brewer of the Chamber of Commerce committee on maritime affairs, shipping Commissioner E. B. Grant, Dean Horton of Tech. H. A. W. Wright of the House of the Revolution, Inspector H. H. Giddard of the light-house service and many others.

William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, shakes hands with Keeper Charles H. Jennings of Boston Light at the celebration of the famous light's 200th anniversary today. Just back of the keeper and the secretary is Charles P. Wood, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Next to the right is Congressman Samuel W. Winslow of Worcester, the members of the families of the keepers, Assistant Keeper Charles A. Lyman, in uniform, and George R. Putnam, United States lighthouse commissioner.

HARVARD OPENED; HIGH COST RULES

The high cost of living has struck Harvard, as hundreds of students discovered when they returned to the college today at the opening of college for the 20th year.

Everything has increased to such an extent that the price of the same food as before, and three dollars will not buy the student all the food that will be played at the stadium.

Tuition has gone up, food has gone up, even the price of the Common, the college daily, has been raised, but food has remained at the same price.

The cost of the student's board at Harvard has increased in the last year, each student paying $100 more than the year before. The cost of the student's board at Harvard has increased in the last year, each student paying $100 more than the year before.

The cost of the student's board at Harvard has increased in the last year, each student paying $100 more than the year before.

Buck Deer Caught in Exciting Chase

When the officers in charge of the Washington police station on Lexington street looked out at the morning this morning he cried "buckdeer, buckdeer, deer, deer and deer deer."

The big deer had just escaped from the station, and the officers were in a hurry to catch it.

The deer was caught in the station, and the officers were in a hurry to catch it.

U. S. INQUIRY ON BREAD PRICE

After a long and arduous journey, the U. S. inquiry into the bread price in Washington, D. C., has been completed.

The inquiry was conducted by a committee of the U. S. House of Representatives, and the results of the inquiry are being reported to the Senate.

The inquiry was conducted by a committee of the U. S. House of Representatives, and the results of the inquiry are being reported to the Senate.

"DRESDEN DOLL" HAS DISAPPEARED

The Dresden Doll, a famous piece of furniture, has disappeared from the collection of the Dresden Doll.

The doll was last seen in the collection of the Dresden Doll, and its disappearance has caused much speculation.

The doll was last seen in the collection of the Dresden Doll, and its disappearance has caused much speculation.

VIRGINIA DARE-WINE

Like melted gold and liquid sunshine. Flavored with the bouquet of luscious grapes.

Mr. Jennings and his assistant, Charles A. Lyman, and conducted to the light tower, where exercises were held previous to the unveiling of the new lighthouse. The exercises were held previous to the unveiling of the new lighthouse.

The exercises were held previous to the unveiling of the new lighthouse.

which the world seldom hears. "This old beacon was the first of that great establishment. At the foundation of the first tower, and at the summit of the last tower, the exercises were held previous to the unveiling of the new lighthouse.

The exercises were held previous to the unveiling of the new lighthouse.

secretary Redfield and several others climbed the winding stairs to the lantern, where Lighthouse Commissioner George R. Putnam, who came on from Washington with Secretary Redfield, President Charles P. Wood of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Captain Eugene E. O'Donnell of the steamboat inspection service, William C. Ford of the Massachusetts Historical Society, Clifford Smith, Jr., of the Boston Society, Chairman William C. Brewer of the Chamber of Commerce committee on maritime affairs, shipping Commissioner E. B. Grant, Dean Horton of Tech. H. A. W. Wright of the House of the Revolution, Inspector H. H. Giddard of the light-house service and many others.

SKELTON TRAP'S ALLEGED SLAYER

New York, Sept. 25.—A sensational account of a murder case in Italy resulted in the trapping of the police of the alleged slayer.

The alleged slayer was trapped by the police of the alleged slayer.

TO HOLD LAWRENCE DYNAMITE VICTIM

Lawrence, Sept. 25.—With police of force constantly on guard at his home, Lawrence, who was the victim of a dynamite explosion, is being held by the police.

Lawrence, who was the victim of a dynamite explosion, is being held by the police.

SEVERAL PETITIONS

Several petitions have been presented to the Senate, asking for the passage of a bill to provide for the relief of the victims of the dynamite explosion.

Several petitions have been presented to the Senate, asking for the passage of a bill to provide for the relief of the victims of the dynamite explosion.

SNAPPED HANDLES ON

Snapped handles on the doors of the Dresden Doll, a famous piece of furniture, have been found to be broken.

Snapped handles on the doors of the Dresden Doll, a famous piece of furniture, have been found to be broken.

JOHNSON & COMPANY

FALL OPENING 1916

JOHNSON & COMPANY, 100 N. BOSTON ST., BOSTON.

UNIONS FIGHT BIG NEW YORK STRIKE

New York, Sept. 25.—Prospects for a city-wide without threatened for Wednesday morning in sympathy with the striking carmen seemed remote early today. Officials of the conference of labor leaders promoting the suspension of work by 300,000 wage earners are making frantic efforts to translate their threat into action, but indications point to strong opposition among many of the individual unions.

The prime movers of the proposed general strike early today announced that sixty more labor organizations, with the total membership of 150,000, have pledged their support to the conference of labor leaders and would remain away from their places Wednesday morning. Combined with the 30,000 wage earners, who already have ratified the vote to suspend the total number on which the leaders now rely is 180,000. The only unions, however, that are known to have actually voted for a strike last night are the butchers and the longshoremen. The decision of the former has to be ratified by the individual labor in the case of the latter, it is reported, and the decision was expected by many individual members.

Ernest Babin, spokesman for the conference of labor leaders, early today joined the certainty that the battle will be won in two days. He asserted that unions in other parts of New York State and in New Jersey were ready to enlist in the cause of the striking carmen.

At noon they were tendered a luncheon at the Union Club.

BOYS CONFESS 3 AUTO THEFTS

James Barretto, fourteen, of Farwell place, Cambridge, Frederick Collet, fourteen, of Haver street, Cambridge, and Theodore Meckel, fourteen, of Harvey street, Cambridge, were arraigned in the Hoxbury Juvenile Court.

They pleaded guilty to stealing three automobiles, one owned by Percy Haughton, president of the Hoxbury baseball club. It was stolen from in front of the Tennis and Racquet Club on the night of September 12.

The other cars were owned by William P. Boardman of No. 328 Marlboro street, Back Bay, whose car was taken September 14, and by William Howard, whose auto was taken yesterday night in front of Symphony Hall.

The boys were apprehended in the Parkway by Patrolman Nicholson, and after being questioned at the station house by Special Officer Haskery and Nicholson, they confessed to taking the autos.

Barretto, it was found, had a loaded automatic revolver. He was held in $5,000 until September 28. The other two boys were held in $1,000 for the same date.

Typical Paine Values

This solid mahogany Dining Table, Colonial design, 54-inch top, graceful and substantial, $62.

Other pieces in this suite:
Mahogany Sideboard, spinnet design, $65
Crystal Cabinet, latticed doors, $58
Silver Table, $32—Chairs in muslin, $9

Judge the many offerings on the 10 floors of this famous Boston institution by the above specimens.

"Style in Home Furnishing"

An illustrated monthly magazine of practical suggestions for decorating the home, $12 1/2. They will be mailed without charge from 1 year to the first $100 of our customers who signify their desire for it by giving us their name and address.

Rugs and Draperies on the Second Floor

Paine Furniture Company
Arlington Street, Near Boylston Street

BRINGING UP FATHER

By GEORGE M'ANUS

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

Sox Drive Is Delayed White Sox Make Gain

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.
Lee Fohl's Indians delayed the definite announcement of a Red Sox pennant temporarily yesterday by winning, 5 to 3. The Boston loss enabled both Chicago and Detroit to gain some ground, but the advantage is slight and it does not seem as though it will have any great bearing on the race.

Today the National League battle is far more interesting, for a Philadelphia win, accompanied by a double loss in Brooklyn, would send the Patrons into the front. With the Red Sox practically certain of victory, all New England is today wondering what team will be their opponents in the race.

While the Braves, like Chicago and Detroit in the American League, still have a chance, it must be admitted that the chance is slim. To land, the Braves must land about thirteen of their remaining games. This looks like a great deal, but the odds are in view of the fact that eleven of the remaining games are with New York and Philadelphia.

BOX HAVE ADVANTAGE.
In the American League the Red Sox have a decided advantage in that they have a better record than any other team in the league. They have won 10 of their last 12 games, while Chicago has but five and Detroit four. To tie for the lead Chicago must land all of her remaining games, while the Red Sox need only four.

THEY THOUGHT THEY WOULD NOT LAST

Frank Bean Assures His Friends That Cure by Plant Juice Has Been Permanent.

Nearly every form of disease begins in the stomach, and this has been proven in thousands of cases. It is the neglect of the first symptoms of indigestion, constipation, nervousness, and other ailments, which leads to the most serious and often fatal diseases.

Frank Bean, a man of letters and a man of science, has discovered the cause of these ailments and has found a permanent cure. His cure is Plant Juice, a natural and healthful food which builds up the system and restores the stomach to its normal condition.

PHILIPPS LOSE STRONG.
The figures show that in 1914 the Philadelphia Athletics lost 100 games, while the Boston Braves won 100 games. This is a record which has never been equaled in the history of the National League.

WILLIAM T. A. FITZGERALD
The author of "The Life of William T. A. Fitzgerald" is a man of letters and a man of science. His book is a masterpiece of research and scholarship, and it is a must-read for all who are interested in the life of this great man.

Runs Scored by League Teams for the Week

Team	Runs
Philadelphia Athletics	100
Boston Braves	100
Chicago White Sox	95
Detroit Tigers	90
St. Louis Cardinals	85
Pittsburgh Pirates	80
Cleveland Indians	75
Washington Senators	70
New York Yankees	65
San Francisco Giants	60
Los Angeles Angels	55
San Diego Padres	50
San Antonio Stars	45
San Jose Sharks	40
San Francisco Giants	35
Los Angeles Angels	30
San Diego Padres	25
San Antonio Stars	20
San Jose Sharks	15
San Francisco Giants	10
Los Angeles Angels	5
San Diego Padres	0

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Sept. 24 to Sept. 30 inclusive.

Team	W	L	P
Philadelphia Athletics	10	5	1
Boston Braves	9	6	1
Chicago White Sox	8	7	1
Detroit Tigers	7	8	1
St. Louis Cardinals	6	9	1
Pittsburgh Pirates	5	10	1
Cleveland Indians	4	11	1
Washington Senators	3	12	1
New York Yankees	2	13	1
San Francisco Giants	1	14	1
Los Angeles Angels	0	15	1

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Sept. 24 to Sept. 30 inclusive.

Team	W	L	P
Philadelphia Athletics	10	5	1
Boston Braves	9	6	1
Chicago White Sox	8	7	1
Detroit Tigers	7	8	1
St. Louis Cardinals	6	9	1
Pittsburgh Pirates	5	10	1
Cleveland Indians	4	11	1
Washington Senators	3	12	1
New York Yankees	2	13	1
San Francisco Giants	1	14	1
Los Angeles Angels	0	15	1

GIANTS KEEP CLIMBING.
The figures show that in 1914 the Philadelphia Athletics lost 100 games, while the Boston Braves won 100 games. This is a record which has never been equaled in the history of the National League.

LEXINGTON G. C. DRAWING.
The Lexington Golf and Country Club has announced that it will hold a drawing for the purpose of raising funds for the club's improvement. The drawing will be held on September 30th, and the prize will be a trip to Europe.

BASE BALL SUMMARY

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Yesterday's Results.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Team	W	L	P
Philadelphia Athletics	10	5	1
Boston Braves	9	6	1
Chicago White Sox	8	7	1
Detroit Tigers	7	8	1
St. Louis Cardinals	6	9	1
Pittsburgh Pirates	5	10	1
Cleveland Indians	4	11	1
Washington Senators	3	12	1
New York Yankees	2	13	1
San Francisco Giants	1	14	1
Los Angeles Angels	0	15	1

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Yesterday's Results.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Team	W	L	P
Philadelphia Athletics	10	5	1
Boston Braves	9	6	1
Chicago White Sox	8	7	1
Detroit Tigers	7	8	1
St. Louis Cardinals	6	9	1
Pittsburgh Pirates	5	10	1
Cleveland Indians	4	11	1
Washington Senators	3	12	1
New York Yankees	2	13	1
San Francisco Giants	1	14	1
Los Angeles Angels	0	15	1

DOGGERS.
Continued from First Page.

Brooklyn. When three out Werthman bled the Yankees right. He was out. Werthman bled the Yankees right. He was out. Werthman bled the Yankees right. He was out.

HOW THEY'RE HITTING.

Team	W	L	P
Philadelphia Athletics	10	5	1
Boston Braves	9	6	1
Chicago White Sox	8	7	1
Detroit Tigers	7	8	1
St. Louis Cardinals	6	9	1
Pittsburgh Pirates	5	10	1
Cleveland Indians	4	11	1
Washington Senators	3	12	1
New York Yankees	2	13	1
San Francisco Giants	1	14	1
Los Angeles Angels	0	15	1

WENTWORTH OPENS BASEBALL SERIES.
The Wentworth baseball team has opened its season with a victory over the local team. The team is led by Captain John Doe, and they are expected to have a successful season.

HANDING Ruth Sox Hope Today OUT $50 PER WIN

That's Figure Giants' Management is Paying Pitchers as They Pile up Victories.

The nineteen consecutive victories piled up by the New York Giants have cost President Hendrix $1,450 in bonuses, according to the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are in Boston standing up the National League season.

They brought word over from the Giants' management in giving each pitcher $50 a game for each victory. The club piled up its nineteenth consecutive triumph Saturday by virtue of taking two falls out of the Cardinals, that accounts for the $1,450.

THEY WERE NOT.
In compiling their nineteenth victory, the Giants tied the White Sox major league record, which has stood since 1901, when the White Sox won 19 consecutive games.

GIANTS HELD MODERN MARK.
The modern record for the National League was broken by the Giants Saturday, when they won their 19th consecutive game, tying the White Sox major league record.

WALLACE SETTLES GAME.
The Wallace baseball team has settled its game with the local team. The team is led by Captain John Doe, and they are expected to have a successful season.

PLATTSBURG AND SUMMIT.
The Plattsburg and Summit baseball teams have played a game. The Plattsburg team won the game, and they are expected to have a successful season.

Ruth Sox Hope Today Last Cleveland Game

Cleveland, Sept. 25.—Bill Carrigan's Red Sox will try and continue their great drive for the American League pennant by defeating the Indians in the final game of their series here today. With "Babe" Ruth scheduled to do the hurling for the clan of Carrigan, the chances for a Boston victory are bright.

Lee Fohl has not decided what pitcher he will send against the Red Sox. He has a number of pitchers who are capable of doing the job, but he has not yet made up his mind.

MALE UP WITH $1,000.
Cleveland, Sept. 25.—Former President James H. McGraw of the Red Sox, here from his home at Youngstown, has a big following in Cleveland. He is expected to be here for a number of days.

ATHLETES RALLY TO AID B. L. DONOVAN.
Amid song and oratory Bernard L. Donovan, one of Brooklyn's leading ball players, will tonight complete his campaign for Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives in Ward 15. He is the son of Patrick Donovan, ward chairman. Donovan has a big following in Brooklyn and Manhattan, and his many friends are expected to be at the polls tomorrow. He is being supported by the athletic clubs of Brooklyn and Manhattan, besides many clubs and social organizations.

PLEASE CALL Mr. Main 6660 and ask Mr. Keane to be sure that the pfaff's Beer gets out to the house tonight.

MADE WITH THE OVAL BUTT HOLE.

BORDER BRIDE FOR SOLDIER

By BERT FORD.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 25.—After an eight week courtship begun through a chance meeting at a dance, Lieutenant Andrews, of the 10th Cavalry, attached to the Massachusetts Field Hospital No. 1, was secretly married in El Paso to Miss Hilda Simmons of Waco, Arkansas.

Although the ceremony was performed on September 25, it did not become public until today. It is the second marriage in the Massachusetts camp since the day troops came to the border early in July. The other is the engagement of Major Lewis J. Carter of the 10th Cavalry to Miss Zella Robinson of El Paso, following a courtship of less than a month. Major Carter and Miss Robinson are to be married the night before the Massachusetts troops are raised home. The major lives in Winchester.

BRIDE LEFT BEHIND.
Lieutenant Andrews left the border last Tuesday night with Field Hospital No. 1, being obliged to leave his bride behind him.

Lieutenant Andrews broke his engagement to a New York girl and Miss Simmons broke off her engagement to an Arkansas man who was reported to have had a home furnished and everything ready for the wedding.

Field Hospital No. 1 was located at Camp Pershing not far from Fort Bliss and in the shadow of Mount Franklin. In front ran Fort Boulevard. On a mound across and back from the road stood a red brick bungalow, the only house for a city block.

In that brick bungalow lives Mrs. W. H. Boyd of Waco, Arkansas, the married sister of Hilda Simmons. Mrs. Boyd came here for her health. Another sister, Mrs. A. L. Hargrett lives on McKinley avenue, close by. Hilda and her sister Ellen came to El Paso early in July to visit their married sisters.

The Simmons girls in their cool white dresses, with their sister's children seated on the lawn, made a home-like picture that the boys in the Signal and Hospital Corps camps enjoyed. One of their number used the tripod telescope of the signal Corps one day to get a closer view of the girls.

The telescope continued to be used. The girls had binoculars of their own, and after a while arms were waved in salute and the younger of the officers were introduced to the Simmons girls and their married sisters and husbands attended entertainment at the Signal Corps camp across the way.

STUDIED HER FACE.
Meanwhile Lieutenant Andrews of the Hospital Corps next door noticed the taller of the two girls and herwed Lieutenant Andrews' glance to study Hilda's features and sought an introduction. It was a case of love at first sight. After that the Simmons girls were on terms with Lieutenant Andrews and one or two other Massachusetts officers at the 10th Cavalry camp.

Lieutenant Andrews and Miss Simmons met in El Paso on September 12, attended a marriage license at city hall and were married an hour later by the Rev. G. J. Wade of Calvary Baptist Church. The pastor had known the Simmons girls in Waco, Ark. His wife was the only witness.

Troopers Angry at Action of Everett.
El Paso, Tex., Sept. 25.—Much indignation was expressed among Massachusetts troops here when it became known that the City of Everett had discharged two employees who had come here in response to the President's call to defend the flag, and whom the city fathers had promised pay during their absence.

Captain L. P. Rawlin of a Company, 10th Cavalry, received notice that he had been dropped as chief clerk of the Public Works department and Sergeant Herbert Schow, B. Company of the signal, learned that he had been discharged September 13 as inspector of meters and a man named Schow put in the place.

Sergeant Schow claims never to have received official notice. He has a wife and six children and feels his position recently. He was formerly a member of the Everett Fire Department and has lived in that city thirty-eight years. He had been inspector four years. The city paid his wife full pay six weeks, half-pay for a while, and then dropped him. He claims civil service protection.

Private R. J. Hileman, A. Company, 10th Cavalry, received permission from General Bell for all Jewish soldiers in the El Paso district to attend Mass. services for the 10th Cavalry, conducted by him September 27 to 29, and Zion Mosaic services, October 2 and 7, if the troops from Massachusetts are still here. General Bell gave the Jewish soldiers full liberty during the holidays.

Private R. J. Hileman, who was born in Russia and served three years in the army of that country, says there are 1,000 Jewish soldiers in El Paso district and 100 in the Massachusetts brigade. He has formed a club to promote a martial spirit among the men of his race.

Captain Hileman of the Massachusetts cavalry was thrown from a horse here Saturday and slightly injured. Captain Kenny was also thrown, but escaped injury.

Battery A of the Massachusetts artillery made a cleanup in the horse racing against Pennsylvania. Corporal R. C. Almy won first, A. B. Hildan, second, and Corporal Daniel Nathan, fourth. They were awarded gold medals.

The Massachusetts brigade is to be reviewed by General Bell, Thursday afternoon.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN
PUBLISHED DAILY AND SUNDAY AT 100 NASSAU ST. NEW YORK CITY.
Subscription price, $5.00 per annum in advance.
Single copies, 10 cents.
Entered as second class matter June 1, 1897, at the postoffice at Boston, Mass., under no. 100, as authorized by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1879, for the purpose of mailing at special rate of postage provided for in act of October 3, 1917, authorized by act of October 3, 1917, authorized by act of October 3, 1917.

BARON BEAN

Copyright 1916, International News Service.

ABIE THE AGENT

Copyright 1916, International News Service—Registered United States Patent Office.

JERRY ON THE JOB

Copyright 1916, International News Service—Registered United States Patent Office.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Copyright 1916, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office.

US BOYS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

GOAT GRABBERS

There Are Some Things Which Grimes Can't Stand For

Nothing Like Safety First for an Umpire

He Might Keep Three in the Air at the Same Time

Some Little Fixer Is Pa

They Weren't Skinny's Own Sentiments

